Archiving for Google Workspace

Trust the data protection experts with your Archives.

Archiving Google Workspace user licenses with Spin.AI gives you the unmatched protection you need to meet compliance requirements for data retention, preserve institutional knowledge, and make room for more active user licenses when employees transition.

G Archive   vs.   Spin.ai Archive

G Archive	Spin.ai Archive
• Legacy Google Pricing	• Customers save 25% on average

Challenges of Legacy Solutions

No Data Usage Without Purchasing Google Vault
Google retains archived user data on your behalf, but you cannot access, view, move, or reassign this data to a new user unless you also purchase Google Vault.

No Automated Restore Action
Google Archive does not operate like a modern SaaS backup tool in that actions taken are all manual. This adds operational delays and slows down IT teams that are often already stretched thin.

Increased Overhead
Vault costs an additional fee above the archived user license, though it's included in costlier subscription tiers. Another option is to convert licenses back to active in order to view and use the data, but that also comes with additional cost.

Advantages of Archiving with Spin.ai

Cost Savings
Our clients save an average of 25% on archived user licenses out of the gate. Legacy solutions are designed with built-in limitations to encourage line item purchases. Spin.AI Archives are designed to be comprehensive and cost effective.

Automation to Reduce Overhead
Like all our data protection solutions, Spin.AI's Archive Service leverages powerful automation, max functionality, a friendly user interface, and granular controls to minimize the time and complexity often associated with data management.

Full Access & Usability
Your data will always be your data. View, move, use, or reassign archived user data anytime. You'll never have to make an additional purchase just to access your own corporate data.

Fast, easy, effective.

Spin.ai streamlines your archiving processes, significantly reduces manual workloads, and strengthens your security and compliance posture – all while delivering a substantial cost reduction.

Trusted by over 1500 organizations & millions of users worldwide.
